Universal Design Principles and PepsiCo's Brand Heritage

BREATH TAKING

Brand Heritage and the Aesthetics of Simplicity

The Pepsi ethos has evolved over time. The vocabulary of truth and simplicity is a reoccurring phenomena in the brand’s history. It communicates the brand in a timeless manner and with an expression of clarity. Pepsi BREATH TAKING builds on this knowledge. True innovation always begins by investigating the historic path. Going back-to-the-roots moves the brand forward as it changes the trajectory of the future.

Iconic Geometry

Derived from PepsiCo’s rich packaging legacy and inspired by some of its earliest forms and proportions, BREATH TAKING revitalizes the essence of PepsiCo in creating an iconic shape for the brand.

1896 Pepsi Geometries: Perimeter Oscillations

The Pepsi DNA finds its origin in the dynamic of perimeter oscillations. This new identity manifests itself in an authentic geometry that is to become proprietary to the Pepsi culture.

Applying Universal Laws to Establish a Blueprint for the Brand

Creation of Identity: Precedents

Artists and architects have proportioned their works to approximate the Golden Ratio, especially in the form of the Golden Rectangle, in which the ratio of the longer side to the shorter is the Golden Ratio. They believe this proportion to be universally and aesthetically pleasing. The Golden Ratio plays an essential role in human perception of beauty.

Height and width of the Parthenon is proportioned to yield a Golden Rectangle.

Leonardo Da Vinci studied the proportion of the human face and applied his findings in the Mona Lisa painting.

Book format and page layout are based on the Golden Proportion.

The diameter of the Nautilus Shell increases proportionally with the Golden Ratio.

Creation of Identity: A Blueprint for Proportions

A. The Golden Ratio

It starts with a square.

B. The Pepsi Ratio

It starts with a circle.

BREATH TAKING

Creation of Identity: Scales and Dynamic Relationships

A. Geometry of Aesthetics: Proportion

The Golden Ratio establishes a proportion of one part (a) relative to another (b). Playing by these rules produces an aestheticism that is universally accepted to be in balance and harmony. The Pepsi aesthetic respects these rules: The brand identity can be derived from two circles, that have a set relation to each other.

B. Geometry of Aesthetics: Dynamics

BREATH TAKING

Creation of Identity: Dynamic Forces

A. The Earth's Geodynamo
A naturally occurring electric generator in fluid motion generates and sustains the Earth's magnetic field.

A. The Pepsi Globe

B. Magnetic Fields
Magnetic fields exert forces on inner and outer surfaces of the Earth.

B. Pepsi Energy Fields
Symmetrical energy fields are in balance.

C. Magnetic Dynamics
Magnetic field are impacted by sun radiation and wind motion.

C. The Pepsi Globe Dynamics
Emotive forces shape the gestalt of the brand identity.

Creation of Identity: Color Theory

A. Objective Color / Subjective Emotion

Each color on the color wheel is associated with a subjective psychic and emotional value.
